AFRODITE OF MILOS

Afrodite of Milos, also known as the Venus de Milo, is an ancient Greek statue and one of the most famous works of ancient Greek sculpture. Initially it was attributed to the sculptor Praxiteles but now is thought to be the work of Alexandros of Antioch. Created sometime between 130 and 90 BC, the statue is believed to depict Aphrodite, the Greek goddess of love and beauty.

It is a marble sculpture, slightly larger than life-size. The Venus de Milo's arms are missing, for unknown reasons. This great statue was found in Milos in 1820 by a peasant named Georgios Kentrotas. As he didn't know his historical importance, he decided to keep it on his farm. That time there was a French sailor on the island. He saw it and immediately understood the importance of this discovery. So he arranged to have the French government purchased the statue.

The statue is named (by the French), after Aphrodite's Roman name, Venus, and the Greek island of Milos, where it was discovered. Many artists were inspired by the beautiful sculpture, which eventually led to her role in pop culture. This statue is today one of the most famous works of ancient Greek art and is often used as the symbol of Milos island. It is currently on permanent display at the Louvre Museum in Paris, in the collection of the Greek Antiquities Department of the Louvre Museum. If you want to visit it, Afrodite of Milos has permanent pride of place in gallery 16, along with some other fine Greek antiquities. Fortunately, there is a replica of this statue in the Archaeological Museum of Milos, for Greek people who want to admire it!

"FOOD FACTS"

Food is a basic need for people. But there are 5 interesting things that you probably didn't know.

1. Carrots were originally purple.

According to the National Carrot Museum in the UK, the first carrots looked nothing like they do today. Originally these vegetables were purple or white with a thin root. The orange carrots we know and eat today are actually the result of a genetic mutation in the late 16th century that won out over the original color.

2. The most expensive pizza in the world costs $ 29,000 dollars.

That's because it takes 72 hours to make and it can only be made in your home by 3 Italian chefs.

3. Ketchup used to be used as a medicine.

Back in the early 1800's, people thought tomatoes had medicinal qualities.

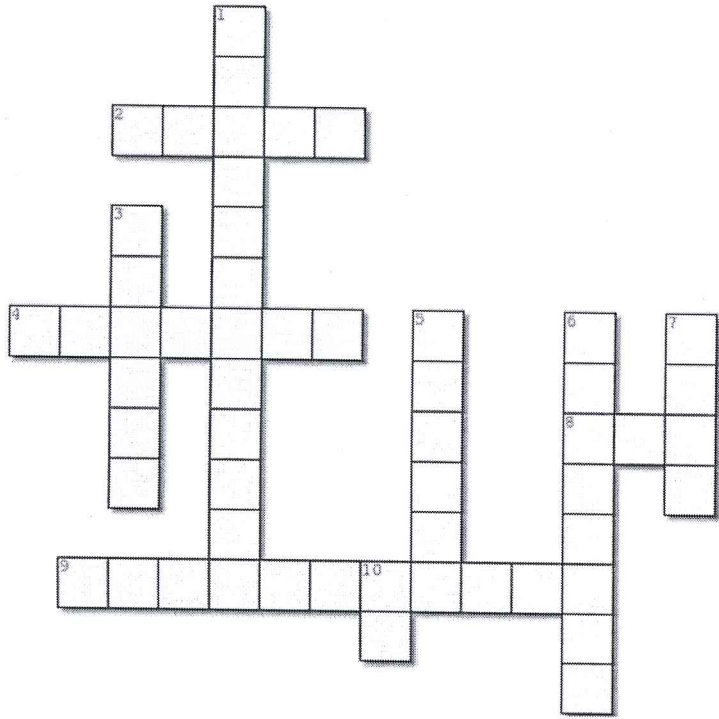

4. Astronauts ate food grown in space for the first time in 2015. Specifically on August 10th, 2015, NASA astronauts sampled red romaine lettuce that was growing in a specially designed chamber.

5. It's impossible to cook an egg on a sidewalk. The highest temperature ever recorded was 131 Fahrenheit. In order to cook an egg on a sidewalk, it would need to be 158 degrees.

THE HUNGER GAMES by Suzanne Collins (book 1)

The Hunger Games is a 2008 dystopian novel by the American writer Suzanne Collins. It is written in the voice of 16-year-old Katniss Everdeen, who lives in the future, post-apocalyptic nation of Panem in North America. The book was praised for its plot and character development by major reviewers and authors. The novel has been translated into 26 languages and has won many awards.

Book review

WINNING MEANS FAME AND FORTUNE. LOSING MEANS CERTAIN DEATH.
THE HUNGER GAMES HAVE BEGUN. . . .

In the ruins of a place once known as North America lies the nation of Panem, a shining Capitol surrounded by twelve outlying districts. The Capitol is harsh and cruel and keeps the districts in line by forcing them all to send one boy and one girl between the ages of twelve and eighteen to participate in the annual Hunger Games, a fight to the death on live TV.

Sixteen-year-old Katniss Everdeen regards it as a death sentence when she steps forward to take her sister's place in the Games. But Katniss has been close to dead before-and survival, for her, is second nature. Without really meaning to, she becomes a contender. But if she is to win, she will have to start making choices that weight survival against humanity and life against love.

The Greatest Showman is a funny comedy which is based on a true story.

The story is set in America. Hugh Jackman has the lead role. He is a showman who organizes a show which includes people with problems. His wife is so pretty and their two daughters are really cute. In the beginning the show had a lot of viewers. But when a strange woman, called Jenny, appeared Tom leaves the show and help Jenny have money. This way he neglects his family and dedicates himself to his career. After a while Tom comes back and he tries to organize the show again. Will he do it in the end?

The film is very interesting and it has an exciting plot. I like the brilliant acting and I love the amazing songs. I was also excited with the messages this movie sends which teach humanity and compassion.

I think that it is a great film the whole family will enjoy. Everyone can learn a lot of things of it and take life lessons.

"Ranger" apprentice: the ruins of Gorlan: Book 1" is an adventurous-fairy tale by Flanagan John. The plot sets us around the medieval times introducing us with Whill, who is a little boy. He may not be strong, but he knows how to think and run. His dream was to become a knight like his father, but when he is rejected by the school of war, he is very disappointed. Hopefully for him, Halt, a mysterious ranger who has the ability to move without being noticed, offers him the chance to be his student. Hesitant at first, Whill wears the green-gray cape of rangers, which makes them look almost invisible, and trains under Halt. He may not be wielding a sword nor he is riding a white horse, but when he goes on a dangerous mission with his master, Whill understands that the ranger's weapons are more useful than he thought at first. The book is best recommended for children above the age of 12.

Stuck with U
Ariana Grande & Justin Bieber

[Verse 1: Ariana Grande]

I'm not one to stick around

One strike and you're out, baby

Don't care if I sound crazy

But you never let me down, no, no

That's why when the sun's up, I'm stayin'

Still layin' in your bed, singin'

[Pre-Chorus: Ariana Grande]

Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh

Got all this time on my hands

Might as well cancel our plans, yeah

I could stay here for a lifetime

[Chorus: Ariana Grande]

So, lock the door and throw out the key

Can't fight this no more, it's just you and me

And there's nothin' I, nothin' I, I can do

I'm stuck with you, stuck with you, stuck with you

So, go ahead and drive me insane

Baby, run your mouth, I still wouldn't change

Being stuck with you, stuck with you, stuck with you

I'm stuck with you, stuck with you, stuck with you, baby

[Verse 2: Justin Bieber with Ariana Grande]

There's nowhere we need to be, no, no, no

I'ma get to know you better.

Kinda hope we're here forever

There's nobody on these streets

If you told me that the world's endin'

You, oh, oh

Lyrics

High school

Have you ever seen a man this rich?

This broke?

This lost?

In the smoke, please pray for me

I can never hide my ghost come everywhere I go

Tell heaven don't wait for me

Sitting waiting at the gate for me

I heard this bitch blowing Lil Peep faithfully

That's why these pussy's got hate for me

Cause they was busy chasing bitches

I was chasing dreams

Throw me off the edge, I'll fall

Looking up at em, like I never even knew them

at all

I remember walking around in the hall

And then the bell rang

And I felt there's something that I couldn't recall

Making you cry the way she did, I can't forgive myself for

And if you want me too

I'll kill myself, cause I'm already in hell for

You use to love me then

I know it's not the same

But this is not the end, cause everything gon' change

When I get that Benz, I'ma pullup in the rain

And I'm gon' say

You weren't?
